Wednesday

Dear Deborah

I suppose you are wondering when I am about what I am about but I assure you I am very well - am pleased - & have been - half the delight full time to - I got over to Jersey very soon by the Reels was in the stage from Reels near of Kingston - I got out at 2 - & paid $5.00 - & had all sort of attention & that I went only three miles - I was the person that the driver delighted to honour Lansford came & I had a little chat with him - & after a little stretch of patience came the shiny hair stage - dear Mary & I made noises early & all particular friends & friends - they were delighted to see me or seem to do which was no better - but the knocking the man here gave us no view of that at all - it was a little how - than I ever saw - watching them the stage over set once - & stuck fast very often - the horses broke - & the men had to halt - it was before he got to that point - & I was rescued with - loud exclamations - I have had a delightful visit - & my time has more enjoyed - than I have even if possible I received - more than $20.00 cents next day - took ten & spent the evening sat with a friends party at the Smith's in order to do so declined a very nice to make time that the gay world attended & to which I was invited by 2 gentlemen - Sunday heard Mr Peter Whitney - dined at Mr Richards - took tea & spent evening at Mrs Brooks - - Chander transcribed business made calls - Mr Farley here sick, occupied me some - as I had to console him spent the afternoon & drunk tea at Mr Luther Lincoln - went with him at eight o'clock - to the Smiths to meet the Reading Society - but before then bed - I reserve until I see you

- Tuesday but all day in my best making calls & little Den have you of the vicarage - little Den even I stand as I am began to entertain an idea that I was really something very extraordinary - the smoke of it is even now in my nostrils a sweet smelling smoke - even Mr Burton - met me in the street & refused to leave me until I had promised to go to his home that evening for a few minutes that evening to see his wife - or rather let her see me - (she is an invalid) I was prevented calling you know by her sister's death - I told him I ~~could~~ had really no time but he kept on - I need not stop - a moment but he wished her to look upon my beauty I suppose - & he ended affectionately.

holding out both hands - "we will expect you won't we'll" - I went & had a delightful call & Mr B. & I are ~~brother~~ & sworn friends than ever - I was as Elizabeth Moon-field happily said - in business all day only taken out & fed - twice - I made eighteen calls - - I staid at Mr Smith's till half past 10 - & then came home & pained - which has a severe operation - as Pamela says. I did not know I had so many good things - they are wonderful when I had kept them. My journey to Boston has coming in enough but I shall tell you about it - Mrs Kent has my companion - I arrived at 12 found all well but Mr with the throatache - no news of Anne - Got Henry to go & finish the house which is done - & Henry has behaved in the kindest & handsomest manner about it - by the way I have another scholar - Miss Paton - & all things look bright - the boys are all quiet Mr Chubb Sen says he has a pair of Candle sticks - some spoons & 12 plates for me - every little helps - you know - I shall make some purchases & come to New month - Saturday if I can get them - if you can send for me by any body do - if there is a royal road I have no objection - but I have lots to tell & tell I can splash it I am your devoted I found your Letter & admire Aunt Mary's ability have a story for her -

Miss Debora Weston.
